Synopsis

- Post apocalyptic rebuilt world, that has been stricken with an incurable disease.
- The main character is an adopted cyborg girl, who, under the current laws surrounding cyborgs, her guardian is able to treat her like property.
- She works as a mechanic and is one of the best in the area, which results in her meeting the prince when he asks her for assistance fixing his android.
- In addition to the plague there is growing tension with the lunars, (a race of human who left earth to live on the moon and since then have developed power that allow them to manipulate and control those around them) with their cruel queen pushing for a marriage alliance with the young prince.
- The main story follows Cinder as she is swept into the growing conflict between the lunars and her country as the young prince desperately seek information on the lost lunar princess as an alternative alliance that won't allow the lunar queen to take control of his kingdom.
